Notre Dame Federal Credit Union Launches New Web-based College Planning Service

May 6, 2008 – Notre Dame Federal Credit Union has entered into a strategic partnership with College Funding Solutions to provide the premier web-based college planning service to its members – free of charge.

This service is a valuable tool for parents who are developing a college-funding plan. Notre Dame Federal Credit Union and College Funding Solutions will provide parents with information that will allow them to make informed decisions about funding their child's higher education.

The College Planning Service is intended to help our members:

- Save thousands of dollars on college costs.
- Save numerous hours of research regarding college planning.
- Prepare and pay for college effectively and efficiently, without incurring massive debt or diverting retirement accounts.
- Learn ways to increase retirement contributions during the college years.
- Send their child to the college of their choice - not simply to the least expensive one.

"Planning for a child's education can be an extremely stressful situation for parents," said Leo Ditchcreek, President and CEO of Notre Dame Federal Credit Union. "Our partnership with College Funding Solutions will give parents the tools and information needed to make sound financial choices when planning for their child's higher education."

"We are excited about collaborating with Notre Dame Federal Credit Union to offer their members our unique and innovative service that will help them reduce the costs of college, which is especially important in today's tough economic environment," said Roger Lorelle, President of College Funding Solutions.

More information about the College Planning Service may be found on Notre Dame Federal Credit Union's website at www.ndfcu.org. Simply click the Online College Planning Service banner to learn how to obtain your free college planning report!
